INDEX TO VOLUME CXXXVI.

Abbot, S. L. Recollections of surgery before the use of anesthetics, 7; the stimulating treatment of pneumonia, 37.

Abbott, A. C. Further studies upon the pathogenic spirilla of the Schuylkill River at Philadelphia, 497.

Abbott, S. W. Report on progress in public hygiene, 309, 332.

Abdominal Surgery. Deductions from hospital work in abdominal surgery, with a report of forty-five cases, Johnson, F. W., 52, 61; two cases of laparotomy for acute intussusception, Warren, J. C., 125, 137; abdominal hysterectomy complicated with double ovariotomy: recovery, Pfeiffer, O. J., 131; a large abdominal tumor, Mixter, S. J., 190; the development of abdominal surgery during the lifetime of one man, 191; a case of numerous hydatid cysts disseminated in the abdominal and pelvic cavities, Farrar, 194; cases of gall-stone surgery, Elliot, J. W., 275, 287; an historical sketch of abdominal surgery, Chadwick, J. R., 429.

Abel, J. J. The chemical properties of the blood-pressure-raising constituent of the suprarenal capsule, 496.

Achillodynia. A case of achillodynia due to an exostosis of the os calcis associated with an interesting form of bursitis, Goldthwait, J. E., 515.

Acromegaly. Case of acromegaly, Osborne, 496.

Actinomycosis. Notes on actinomycosis, McIntire, H. B , 84.

Adams, S. S. The evolution of pediatric literature in the United States, 471.

Adams, Z. B. An epoch in medicine in an age of delusion, 557, 585.

Allen, D. P. The origin of appendicitis, 523.

Anesthesia. A bit of professional reminiscence, etherwise and otherwise, Cotting, B. E., 1; recollections of surgery before the use of anesthetics, Markoe, T. M., 2; recollections of surgery before the use of anesthetics, Ingalls, W., 5; recollections of surgery before the use of anesthetics, Abbot, S. L., 7; personal recollections of the first use of anesthetics, Galloupe, I. F., 8; personal recollections of the introduction of anesthesia, Bemis, C. V., 9; an incident in the early history of the introduction of sulphuric ether as an anesthetic, Wheeler, W. G., 9; surgical records of the Massachusetts General Hospital before 1846, Beach, H. H. A., 10; recollections of surgery before anesthesia, 19; the influence of anesthesia on the surgery of the nineteenth century, Warren, J. C., 423; the new local anesthetic, holocain, Derby, H., 540; an English account of the discovery of anesthesia, Leech, D. J., 610.

Antisepsis. Note on bismuthum tribromphenylicum as a surgical antiseptic, Cumston, C. G., 37.

Antitoxin. Behring's diphtheria antitoxin serum improved, 147; results of the use of diphtheria antitoxin, 292; the American Pediatric Society's report on the collective investigation of the antitoxin treatment of laryngeal diphtheria in private practice, 462; a collective investigation of the antitoxin treatment of laryngeal diphtheria in private practice, 473.

Appendicitis. Bicycling and appendicitis, 43; when to call a surgeon in appendicitis, Gay, G. W., 297; appendicitis in an infant, Taylor, F. W., 482; the origin of appendicitis, Allen, D. P., 523; perityphlitis and appendicitis in their relation to obstetrics and gynecology, Mundé, P. F., 548.

Appleby, J. F. R. Guiacol in puerperal eclampsia, 258.

Army. The library of the surgeon-general's office threatened, 118.

Asthma. The treatment of bronchial asthma, Knight, F. I., 273, 285.

Bacteria. Further studies upon the pathogenic spirilla of the Schuylkill River at Philadelphia, Abbott, A. C., 497; the effects of various metals and metallic salts on the growth of certain bacteria, Bolton, B. M., 497; the appearance of certain ameba-like bodies in the blood of vaccinated monkeys (Rhoesus) and children, and in the blood of variola, an experimental study, Reed, W., 497; a bacteriological observatory in St. Petersburg, 582.

Baker, F. H. A report of three deaths from head injury, 327.

Baker, L. W. Southern Georgia as a winter resort, 271.

Baldwin, H. Thrombosis of the blood-vessels of the neck, 632.

Barnes, H. J. Railway car heating, 46.

Bartlett, E. J. A homicidal death from sulphate of strychnine, 570.

Bartol, J. W. Gavage in infants, 513.

Baths. The hygiene of swimming baths, 392.

Beach, H. H. A. The surgical records of the Massachusetts General Hospital before 1846, 10; gold foil in cerebral surgery, 281; anatomical specimens, kidney, 544.

Beattes, H. The use of digitalin with reference to the dose, 632.

Behring's diphtheria antitoxin serum improved, 147.

Bemis, C. V. Personal recollections of the introduction of anesthesia, 9.

Benoud. Paralysis of the posterior crico-arytenoids, 419.

Berkley, H. J. The psychical nerve cells of two educated men, 252.

Berne. Surgery under Kocher at Berne, 240.

Bibliography. Allbutt, T. C., a system of medicine, 413; Apathy, S., die mikrotechnik der thierischen morphologie, 115; Bailey, J. B., the diary of a resurrectionist, 94; Bosworth, F. H., a text-book of diseases of the nose and throat, 212; Bourneville, recherches cliniques et thérapeutiques sur l'épilepsie, l'hystérie et l'idiotie, 94; Buret, F., syphilis in the middle ages and in modern times, 68; Cabot, R. C., a guide to the clinical examination of the blood for diagnostic purposes, 577; Charaka Samhita, 394; Clarkson, A., a text-book of histology, descriptive and practical, 115; Corwin, A. M., essentials of physical diagnosis of the thorax, 67; Davis, E. P., a treatise on obstetrics, 67; Delafield, F., and Prudden, T. M., a handbook of pathological anatomy and histology, 166; Dennis, F. S., system of surgery, 190; Deutsch's letters: a practical method for easy and thorough self-instruction in the German language, 550; Einhorn, M., diseases of the stomach, 524; Gesundheitsbüchlein, 140; Gould, G. M., the student's medical dictionary, 69, and the American year-book of medicine and surgery, 389; Gould, G. M., and Pyle, W. L., anomalies and curiosities of medicine, 576; Harvard Medical Alumni Association Bulletin, 240; Howell, W. H., an American text-book of physiology, 549; Huber, G. C., directions for work in the histological laboratory, 115; Hyde, J. N., and Montgomery, F. H., a practical treatise on diseases of the skin, 576; Impey, S. P., a handbook on leprosy, 68; Jackson, Edward, skiascopy and its practical application to the study of refraction, 18; Johnson, G., the pathology of the contracted granular kidney and the associated cardio-arterial changes, 212; Keyes, E. L., the tonic treatment of syphilis, 18; Kirstein, A., autoscopy of the larynx and the trachea, 212; Loomis, A. L., Thompson, W. G., a system of practical medicine, 414; Lydston, G. F., over the hookah, the tales of a talkative doctor, 41; McFarland, J., a text-book upon the pathogenic bacteria, 166; McGillicuddy, T. J., functional disorders of the nervous system in women, 212; Maclagan, T. J., rheumatism: its nature, its pathology and its successful treatment, 413; Maylard, A. E., a treatise on the surgery of the alimentary canal, comprising the œsophagus, the stomach, the small and large intestines, and the rectum, 577; Michigan, twenty-eighth registration report, 446; Mosso, A., fear, 264; Musser, J. H., a practical treatise on medical diagnosis, 524; Paget, S., the surgery of the chest, 577; physician's visiting list, 1897, 18; Ransome, A., the treatment of phthisis, 68; Rockwell, A. D., the medical and surgical uses of electricity, 42; Saundby, R., lectures on renal and urinary diseases, 577; Schaeffer, O., anatomical atlas of obstetric diagnosis and treatment, 67, and essentials of gynecology, 576; Schweinitz, G. E. de, diseases of the eye, 68; Simon, C. E., a manual of clinical diagnosis by microscopical and chemical methods, 413; Spalteholz, W., handatlas der anatomie des menschen, 116; Stedman, T. L., modern Greek mastery, a short road to ancient Greek, 67, and twentieth century practice, 166, 414; Stevens, A. A., a manual of the practice of medicine, 524; Stohr, P., Text-book of histology, including the microscopical technique, 115; Thoma, R., Text-book of general pathology and pathological anatomy, 212; Thresh, J. C., water and water-supplies, 18; Treves, F., a system of surgery, 264; Turnbull, L., artificial anesthesia, 414; Tyson, J., the practice of medicine, 413; Unna, P. G., the histo-pathology of the diseases of the skin, 42; Wetterstrand, O. G., hypnotism and its application to practical medicine, 550; White and Martin, genito-urinary and venereal diseases, 549; Witthaus, R. A., medical jurisprudence, forensic medicine and toxicology, 17; Wood, H. C., and Fitz, R. H., the practice of medicine, 115; Ziegler, E., a text-book of special pathological anatomy, 212.

Bicycling and appendicitis, 43.

Biggs, H. M., and Prudden, T. M. The segregation and supervision of tuberculosis, 74.

Biography. Abbé, E. P., 217; Agassiz, L., 145; Atwater, J. P., 527; Beaumont, W. S., 48; Blanchard, H., 172; Boisson, 339; Boynton, J. J., 640; Brand, E., 344; Bronson, J. O., 341; Bunker, E. S., 636; Burdett, G. W., 476, 528; Casella, L. P., 504; Charlton, S. H., 196; Cooper, C. W., 148; Cotting, B. E., 528, 532, 554, 583, 637; Creamer, H. A., 216; Cushing, J. W., 475; Cushman, W. B., 476, 503; Dow, J. O., 220, 395; Dunlap, J., 555; Dusseldorf, O. L., 269; Eisenlohr, C., 420; Elliot, E. P., 48, 75, 121; Ethridge, J. A., 362; Feulard, H., 635; Fuller, A. J., 48; Fyfe, C. J., 316; Hall, R. J., 120; Hammer, C., 366; Hartshorne, H., 196; Herndon, J. C., 268; Huntington, H. K., 240;

Hurd, S. H., 148; Ilgen, E., 240; Janeway, T. T., 74; Jiminez, S. M., 194; Lusk, W. T., 610; McLean, L., 418; McNamara, L. J., 120; McNulty, F. J., 612; Maisonneuve, 504; March, D., 24, 121; Mason, S. A., 269; Millard, P. H., 172; Munson, B. W., 24; Newman, W., 22; Olcott, C., 474; O'Leary, C., 552; Pancoast, W. H., 48; Pattee, A. F., 556; Savage, J. J., 76; Smith, J. G., 612; Smith, J. L., 611; Smith, J. W., 610; Stark, C. A., 100; Strubel, H. M., 474; Thomas, G., 584; Turner, H. E., 581; Twitchell, G. B., 320, 342; Walker, J. P., 476; Wallace, W., 23; Welford, F. P., 268; Wells, S., 170; Wheeler, W. G., 396, 416, 447, 503; Whittemore, F. W., 396; Womersley, T., 244; Wood, W. I., 216; Wormley, T. G., 48; Wright, C., 317.

Bismuth. A note on bismuthum tribromphenylicum as a surgical antiseptic, Cumston, C. G., 37.

Blake, C. J. Otology in its relations to general medicine, 487.

Blake, J. G. Sterility in the male, 402.

Blodgett, A. N. Dry formaldehyde gas in the treatment of nasal diphtheria, 583; cancer of the breast in a child, 611.

Boland, E. S. Some things I was not taught in obstetrics, 254, 261.

Bolton, B. M. The effects of various metals and metallic salts in the growth of certain bacteria, 497.

Books. The duty on books in the Dingley bill, 363.

Bowditch, V. Y. Four cases illustrating a marked departure from the usual physical signs of pleuritic effusion, 386.

Bowen, J. T. Report on dermatology, 258.

Bradford, E. H. Value of mechanical exercise in the treatment of stiffness of the joints, 163; congenital dislocation of the hip, 489; tendon anastomosis, 522.

Bradford, E. H., and Brackett, E. G. Report on orthopedic surgery, 158.

Brain. Gold foil in cerebral surgery, Beach, H. H. A., 281; observations on brain surgery suggested by a case of multiple cerebral hemorrhage, Walton, G. L., and Brooks, W. A., Jr., 301; the technique of cranial surgery, Tiffany, L. M., 523; a case of brain cyst with Jacksonian epilepsy, operation followed by relief, Cabot, A. T., 533, 544; cyst of the brain, Elliot, J. W., 536, 544.

Brand. Urea estimations in cases of typhoid fever treated by the Brand bath method, Tyson, J., 469.

Breast. The classification of benign tumors of the breast, Warren, J. C., 49; primary tuberculosis of the breast complicating pregnancy, Davis, E. P., 548; cancer of the breast in a child, Blodgett, A. N., 611.

Bridge, N. The reflex neuroses of the abdomen, 496.

British Troops. The health of the British troops in India, 581.

Brown, D. J. Acute inversion of the uterus following delivery of placenta, 126.

Bull, C. S. The gouty and rheumatic diatheses of the eye, 486.

Bullard, W. N. The permanent or later results of fractures of the skull, 404.

Cabot, A. T. Adenoma of the sigmoid flexure, 190; a case of bullet wound of the head, 208; a case of brain cyst with Jacksonian epilepsy, operation followed by relief, 533, 544.

Cabot, R. C. Remarks on Widal's "clump reaction" in typhoid fever, 107; clinical report on sero diagnosis, 633.

Catgut. The sterilization of catgut by boiling alcohol, Larrabee, R. C., 86.

Camac, W. B. The Schott treatment of cardiac disease, 631.

Camden, S. C., as a health resort, Stone, A. K., 23.

Cancer. Treatment of cancer of the stomach, 42; cancer of the pancreas, 578; cancer of the breast in a child, Blodgett, A. N., 611.

Census. Memorial to Michigan members of Congress relative to a permanent census service of the United States, 75.

Cerebro-spinal Meningitis. A disease dangerous to the public health, 337; the bacteriology of epidemic cerebro-spinal meningitis, 364; an epidemic of cerebro-spinal meningitis caused by diplococcus intracellularis meningitidis (Jaeger), 498.

Chadwick, J. R. Case of suppurating fibroid tumor of the uterus, 407; an historical sketch of abdominal surgery, 429, 548.

Charaka Samhita, 394.

Children. Report on diseases of children, Rotch, T. M., and Wentworth, A. H., 38; child insurance and cruelty to children in England, 146; types of edema in infancy and early childhood, Griffith, J. P. C., 494; the differential diagnosis of the acute exanthemata with especial reference to scarlet fever, Rotch, T. M., 505; gavage in infants, Bartol, J. W., 513.

Chloroform in labor, Hall, J. N., 367.

Cholera. An outbreak of cholera in an officers' mess, Hankin, 45.

Circulatory System. Air-embolism with report of cases, clinical and experimental, Perkins, J., 154, 179; four cases of pregnancy complicated by heart disease, Sears, G. G., 183; hemophilia, Vickery, H. F., 226; tricuspid stenosis, with reports of three cases with autopsies, together with abstracts of forty cases reported since Leudet's thesis (1888), Herrick, J. B., 245; report on progress in thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., 282; acute pericarditis, a study of one hundred cases, Sears, G. G., 383; purulent pericarditis following pneumonia, Shattuck, F. C., and Porter, C. B., 438; angina pectoris, its relation to dilatation of the heart, Musser, J. H., 492; pericarditis, some points on its diagnosis and treatment, Shattuck, F. C., 493; the surgical treatment of suppurative pericarditis, Roberts, J. B., 522; the Schott treatment of cardiac disease, Camac, W. B., 631; the prognosis and therapeutic indications in heart disease, Rochester, D. L., 631; thrombosis of the blood-vessels of the neck, Baldwin, H., 632.

Clark, L. P. Mental automatism in epilepsy: a psychological study, 29.

Clayton, H. H. The height and velocity of a flock of geese migrating northward, 395.

Climate. Camden, S. C., as a health resort, Stone, A. K., 23; Glion, Canton Vaud, as a health resort, 99; the teaching of climatology in medical schools, Ward, R. deC., 103; the winter migration, 239; an alternative to the winter migration, 268; Southern Georgia as a winter resort, 271.

"Clump reaction." Remarks on Widal's "clump reaction" in typhoid fever, Cabot, R. C., 107.

Conant, W. M. Skiagraphs of Colles' fracture, 360.

Consumptives. The attack on private institutions for the care and treatment of consumptives, 291; are especial hospitals or homes for consumptives a source of danger to their neighborhood, Otis, E. O., 305.

Contagious Disease Act. The health of the British troops in India, 581.

Cotting, B. E. A bit of professional reminiscence, etherwise and otherwise, 1.

Councilman, W. T. Remarks on maternal impressions, 32, 41; teratoma specimens, 628.

Councillors' meeting of the Massachusetts Medical Society, 598.

Cretinism. Kocher's views of goitre and cretinism, 637.

Crockett, E. A. An acute syphilitic affection of the ear, 128, 139.

Crowell, S. Death certificates of life insurance companies and endowment orders, 47.

Cumston, C. G. A note on bismuthum tribromphenylicum as a surgical antiseptic, 37; hydrocele of the canal of Nück, with report of a case, 264; hydrocele muliebris, with the report of a case, 278; tertiary spyhilitic epididymitis with a report of a case, 389.

Currier, A. F. Suggestions concerning ventral hernia resulting from abdominal section, and its treatment, 547.

Curry, J. J. A report on the bacteriological investigations of three hundred and twelve cases of surgical infection, 374.

Cushing, E. W. Sociological aspects of gonorrhea, 575.

Cutaneous System. Notes on dermatitis venenata, White, J. C., 77; report on dermatology, Bowen, J. T., 258.

Cyst. Specimen of a dermoid cyst, Porter, C. B., 630.

DaCosta, J. M. Opening of the Garrett memorial clinical hall and reception ward, 421; tendencies in medicine, 435.

Daniel, V. A new thumb splint and a new internal angular splint, 90.

Davis, E. P. Primary tuberculosis of the breast complicating pregnancy, 548.

Davis, N. S. A brief history of the American Medical Association, the principles on which it was organized, the objects it was designed to accomplish, and how far they have been attained during the half century of its existence, 605.

Death. The rates of mortality in New Zealand, 20; death certificates of life insurance companies and endowment orders, Crowell, S., 47.

Delafield, F. The inflammation of the colon, 470.

Demoniacal possessions, James, W., 210.

Derby, H. Pseudo-metallic incrustation of the cornea, 380; the new local anesthetic, holocain, 540.

DeSchweinitz, E. A. Some products of the tuberculosis bacillus and the treatment of experimental tuberculosis by antitoxic serum, 499.

Digestive System. Treatment of cancer of the stomach, 42; bicycling and appendicitis, 43; two cases of laparotomy for acute intussusception, Warren, J. C., 125, 137; stercoral ulcer, Mumford, J. G., 129; hernia epigastrica, with a report of cases, Lothrop, H. A., 175, 185, 200; adenoma of the sigmoid flexure, Cabot, A. T., 190; the mortality of intussusception, Martin, E., 218; when to call a surgeon in appendicitis, Gay, G. W., 295; a case of pyloric stricture, Gannett, W. W., 359; the cure of hernia, Marcy, H. O., 380; the inflammations of the colon, Delafield, F., 470; gavage in infants, Bartol, J. W., 513; the origin of appendicitis, Allen, D. P., 523; a case of chronic intestinal obstruction from incomplete volvulus of the sigmoid flexure, Richardson, M. H., 524; the surgical treatment of acute peritonitis, 525.

Digitalis. A study concerning the cumulative action of digitalis, Hare, H. A., 495; the use of digitalin with reference to the dose, Beattes, H., 632.

Diphtheria. On the value of prompt co-operation with the municipal authorities for the prevention of the spread of diphtheria, Greenleaf, R. W., 228; results of the use of diphtheria antitoxin, 292; the American Pediatric Society's report of the collective investigation of the antitoxin treatment of laryngeal diphtheria in private practice, 462; a case of nervous deafness in diphtheria, Wilson, J. C., 494.

Dislocations. The treatment of old dislocations of the shoulder, Lund, F. B., 397; the operative treatment of irreducible dislocations of the shoulder, recent or old, single or complicated, Souchon, E., 520.

Doty, A. H. Dr. Doty's report on plague antitoxin, 315.

Draper, F. W. Recent progress in legal medicine, 184.

Dudley, A. P. Some pathognomonic physical signs of chronic gonorrheal infection in women and their value in diagnosis of pelvic disease, 549.

Ear. An acute syphilitic affection of the ear, Crockett, E. A., 128, 139; otology in its relations to general medicine, Blake, C. J., 487; a case of nervous deafness in diphtheria, Wilson, J. C., 494.

Edema. Types of edema in infancy and early childhood, Griffiths, J. P. C., 494.

Edes, R. E. The use of Ringer's fluid, 219.

Edes, R. T. The relation of neurasthenic conditions to the general nutrition, 495; relation of neurasthenic symptoms to the general nutrition, 589, 617.

Editorials. Recollections of surgery before anesthesia, 19; medical expert testimony in hypothetical cases, 19; the rates of mortality in New Zealand, 20; treatment of cancer of the stomach, 42; bicycling and appendicitis, 43; the plague, 69; the treatment of puerperal convulsions, 70; the compulsory notification and isolation of pulmonary tuberculosis, 94; rabies in England, 95; the annual report of Harvard College, 1895-96, 117; co-operative action for the improvement of medical expert testimony, 141; the real reason for the passing of the general practitioner, 142; recent advances in neuropathology, 167; the development of abdominal surgery during the lifetime of one man, 191; the practical benefits of sanitary legislation, 192; nurses and nurses, 213; serum therapy in syphilis, 214; the musical faculties in health and disease, 238; the winter migration, 239; the report of the commission on the public charitable and reformatory interests and institutions of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, 265; the regulation of private hospitals for infectious diseases, 267; an alternative to the winter migration, 268; the attack on private institutions for the care and treatment of consumptives, 291; results of the use of diphtheria antitoxin, 292; the bacillus of plague, 292; medical terminology, 313; too much major operating in gynecology, 314; Dr. Doty's report on plague antitoxin, 315; cerebro-spinal meningitis a disease dangerous to the public health, 337; "plaster casts" and "walking casts," 338; the duty on books in the Dingley bill, 363; the bacteriology of epidemic cerebro-spinal meningitis, 364; antistreptococcic serum as a prophylactic in cases of operation involving subsequent sepsis, 390; medicine, sorcery, witchcraft, spiritism in the middle ages, 391; the hygiene of swimming baths, 392; Koch's new tuberculin, 415; the anatomical nomenclature of the nervous system, 416; the treatment of pneumonia and of influenza by large doses of digitalis or digitalin, 445; twenty-eighth registration report of Michigan for the year 1894, 446; the fourth congress of American physicians and surgeons, 472; a collective investigation of the antitoxin treatment of laryngeal diphtheria in private practice, 473; the qualifications for trustees of hospitals and other public charitable institutions, 473; the chemistry and pathology of gout, 500; the surgical treatment of acute peritonitis, 515; a report on the last epidemic of plague at Hong Kong, 550; the fifteenth annual meeting of the American Medical Association, 578; cancer of the pancreas, 578; eighty-third annual report of the Massachusetts General Hospital, 608; the Loomis sanitarium for consumptives, at Liberty, 634.

Education. The teaching of climatology in medical schools, Ward, R. deC., 103; the annual report of Harvard College, 1895–96, 117; opportunities for training in physiology, 217.

Electricity. The high voltage current in alveolar inflammation, Rollins, W., 195; a possible effect of high voltage electric generators on disease germs, Rollins, W., 530.

Elliot, J. W. Nephro-ureterectomy; retroperitoneal extirpation of a kidney with its ureter, 173, 187; cases of gall-stone surgery, 275, 287; cyst of the brain, 536, 544.

Elsner method of diagnosis in typhoid fever, Richardson, M. W., 147.

Emmet, B. McE. Multiple myomata in the abdominal cavity, 546.

Emmet, T. A. When to amputate in preference to the usual operation for lacerations of the cervix uteri, 574.

Epilepsy. Mental automatism in epilepsy; a physiological study, Pierce, L. C., 29.

Epoch in medicine in an age of delusion, Adams, Z. B., 557, 585.

Equino-varus. Anatomy of congenital equino-varus, Nichols, E. H., 150.

Erythromelalgia. Two cases of erythromelalgia, Prentiss, D. W., 470.

Eucain as a local anesthetic in ophthalmic surgery, 195.

Examiner. Death certificates of life insurance companies and endowment orders, Crowell, S., 47; on the duties of a medical examiner, Knowlton, H. M., 321.

Exanthemata. The differential diagnosis of the acute exanthemata with especial reference to scarlet fever, Rotch, T. M., 505.

Exercise. Excessive physical exercise as cause of nervous exhaustion, Webber, S. G., 34.

Expectoration. Ordinance concerning expectoration, 295.

Experts. Medical expert testimony in hypothetical cases, 19; co-operative action for the improvement of medical expert testimony, 141.

Extra-uterine Pregnancy. Notes of a case of extra-uterine gestation; rupture of the sac, operation and recovery, Wyman, S. E., 156.

Eye. An axometer, Williams, C. H., 40; eucain as a local anesthetic in ophthalmic surgery, 195; pseudo-metallic incrustation of the cornea, Derby, H., 380; the gouty and rheumatic diatheses of the eye, Bull, C. S., 486; standards of form and color-vision in railway service, Williams, C. H., 561, 571.

Farrar. A case of numerous hydatid cysts disseminated in the abdominal and pelvic cavities, 194.

Fat. The experimental production of fat necrosis; fat necrosis about the pancreas of the hog, Williams, H. U., 345; the occurrence of the fat-splitting ferment in peritoneal fat necrosis, Flexner, S., 497.

Fenger, C. Ureterectomy, 523.

Flexner, S. The occurrence of the fat-splitting ferment in peritoneal fat necroses, 497.

Flint, A. Stercorin and cholesteremia, 602.

Foot. The treatment of flat-foot, Stone, J. S., 25; the prevention of flat-foot and similar affections, Lovett, R. W., 197.

Formaldehyde gas in the treatment of nasal diphtheria, Blodgett, A. N., 583.

Fracture. A case of spiral fracture of the tibia, Taft, C. E., 181; skiagraphs of Colles's fracture, Conant, W. M., 360; fracture of humerus from ball-throwing, with skiagraph, Withington, C. F., 464.

France. A stationary population in France, 146.

Francis, G. H. Uremia from anuria, 331.

Gage, J. A. Ruptured ovarian cyst; operation; recovery, 59.

Gall. Two cases of broncho-biliary fistula, Graham, J. E., 494.

Gall-bladder infection in typhoid fever, Mason, A. L., 449, 468.

Gall-stones. Cases of gall-stone surgery, Elliot, J. W., 275, 287.

Galloupe, I. F. Personal recollections of the first use of anesthetics, 8.

Gannett, W. W. A case of pyloric stricture, 359.

Garrigues, H. J. Secondary operations, 547.

Gasserian Ganglion. Report of a case of removal of the gasserian ganglion, Weeks, S. H., 522.

Gavage in infants, Bartol, J. W., 513.

Gay, G. W. When to call a surgeon in appendicitis, 297.

Geese. The height and velocity of the flight of a flock of geese migrating northward, Clayton, H. H., 395.

Generative System. Congenital tumor of the vagina, Williams, E. D., 47; ruptured ovarian cyst; operation; recovery; Gage, J. A., 59; report on recent progress in genito-urinary surgery, Watson, F. S., 59, 626; abdominal hysterectomy, complicated with double ovariotomy, recovery, Pfeiffer, O. J., 129; ventro-suspension of the uterus, Irish, J. C., 149; hydrocele of the canal of Nück, with report of a case, Cumston, C. G., 264; hydrocele muliebris with the report of a case, Cumston, C. G., 278; congenital prolapsus uteri, 318; on the iodine test for semen, Johnston, W., 324; the identification of seminal stains, Whitney, W. F., 329; tertiary syphilitic epididymitis, with a report of a case, Cumston, C. G., 389; sterility in the male, Blake, J. G., 402; cases of malignant adenoma of the uterus, vagina and rectum, with remarks upon the surgery of this form of malignant disease, Richardson, M. H., 406, 408; case of suppurating fibroid tumor of the uterus, Chadwick, J. R., 407, 409; an historical sketch of abdominal surgery, Chadwick, J. R., 429, 548; a case of an anomalous constricting ring about the glans penis, Painter, C. F., 465; vaginal myomectomy, Twombly, E. L., 477; a case of suppurating ovarian cysts, operation and treatment, Ronayne, D. P., 480, 483; a very much elongated uterus, Pease, 482; report on progress in gynecology, Reynolds, E., 516; the indications for the technique of hysterectomy, Homans, J., 519; a case of hypospadias, Lothrop, H. A., 541; multiple myomata in the abdominal cavity, Emmet, B. McE., 546; the history and present status of hysterectomy for fibroid tumors of the uterus, Noble, C. P., 546; secondary operations, Garrigues, H. J., 547; when to amputate in preference to the usual operation for lacerations of the cervix uteri, Emmet, T. A., 574; result of two hundred operations for the cure of retro-displacements of the uterus, Smith, A. L., 574; intra-abdominal shortening of the round ligaments for posterior displacements of the uterus, Mann, M. R., 574; a preliminary report on a new method of vaginal fixation, Reynolds, E., 574; shortening of the round ligaments through the anterior vaginal fornix for posterior displacements of the uterus, Goffe, J. R., 575; pelvic blood-collections and their treatment by vaginal incisions, Montgomery, E. E., 575.

Georgia. Southern Georgia as a winter resort, Baker, L. W., 271.

Glion, Canton Vaud, as a health resort, 99.

Goffe, J. R. Shortening the round ligaments through the anterior vaginal fornix for posterior displacements of the uterus, 575.

Goitre. Kocher's views of goitre and cretinism, 637.

Goldthwait, J. E. The treatment of disabled joints resulting from the so-called rheumatoid diseases, 79, 92; the direct transplantation of muscles in the correction of deformities, 165; a case of achillodynia due to an exostosis of the os calcis associated with an interesting form of bursitis, 515.

Gonorrhea. Some pathognomonic physical signs of chronic gonorrheal infection in women and their value in diagnosis of pelvic disease, Dudley, A. P., 549; sociological aspects of gonorrhea, Cushing, E. W., 575.

Goodale, J. L. A case of cancerous degeneration of a laryngeal papilloma following operation, 58.

Gordon, G. A. Address before the Massachusetts Medical Society, 597.

Gout. The chemistry and pathology of gout, 500.

Graham, D. Sprains and their treatment, 593, 620.

Graham, J. E. Two cases of broncho-biliary fistula, 494.

Greenleaf, R. W. On the value of prompt co-operation with the municipal authorities for the prevention of the spread of diphtheria, 228.

Griffith, J. P. C. Types of edema in infancy and early childhood, 494.

Gross, S. D. Unveiling of the Gross statue, 523.

Guiacol in puerperal eclampsia, Appleby, J. F. R., 258.

Gun-shot Wounds. A case of bullet wound of the head, Cabot, A. T., 208; a bullet wound of the brain, Spear, D. D., 208.

Gynecology. An historical sketch of abdominal surgery, Chadwick, J. R., 429, 548; report on progress in gynecology, Reynolds, E., 516; meeting of the American Gynecological Society, 546; perityphlitis and appendicitis in their relation to obstetrics and gynecology, Mundé, P. F., 548.

Hall, J. N. Chloroform in labor, 367.

Hamilton, J. B. The prevention of tuberculosis, 606.

Hammond, G. M. Cases simulating syringomyelia, 210.

Hankin. An outbreak of cholera in an officers' mess, 45.

Hare, H. A. A study concerning the cumulative action of digitalis, 495; a further study of some of the untoward effects of the bromides, 499.

Harvard University. The annual report of Harvard College, 1895–96, 117; opportunities for training in physiology, 217.

Hemophilia, Vickery, H. F., 226, 236.

Hernia. The cure of hernia, Marcy, H. O., 381, 388; suggestions concerning ventral hernia resulting from abdominal section and its treatment, Currier, A. F., 547.

Hernia epigastrica, with a report of cases, Lothrop, H. A., 175, 185, 200.

Herrick, J. B. Tricuspid stenosis, with reports of three cases with autopsies, together with abstracts of forty cases reported since Leudet's thesis (1888), 245.

Herter, C. A. The pathology and treatment of migraine, 64.

Highmore. Empyema of the antrum of Highmore, Lothrop, H. A., 455, 465.

Hip. Congenital dislocation of the hip, Bradford, E. H., 489.

Hoar, S. On the duties of a medical examiner as a witness, 330, 335.

Holocain. The new local anesthetic, holocain, Derby, H., 540.

Homans, J. The indications for the technique of hysterectomy, 519.

Howell, W. H. Internal secretions considered in their physiological, pathological and chemical aspects, 487.

Hygiene, Health and Boards of Health. Railway car heating, Barnes, H. J., 46; the practical benefits of sanitary legislation, 192; on the value of prompt co-operation with the municipal authorities for the prevention of the spread of diphtheria, Greenleaf, R. W., 228; report on progress in public hygiene, Abbott, S. W., 309, 332.

Hypospadias. A case of hypospadias, Lothrop, H. A., 541.

Infectious Diseases. The regulation of private hospitals for infectious diseases, 267.

Ingalls, W. Recollections of surgery before the use of anesthetics, 5.

Insolation, Jackson, H., 101, 111.

Instruments and Apparatus. An axometer, Williams, C. H., 40; a new thumb splint and a new internal angular splint, Daniel, V., 90.

Insurance. Child insurance and cruelty to children in England, 146.

Internal secretions in their physiological, pathological and chemical aspects, Howell, W. H., 487.

Intussusception. The mortality of intussusception, Martin, E., 218.

Irish, J. C. Ventro-suspension of the uterus, 149.

Jackson, A. A. William G. Wheeler, 447.

Jackson, H. Insolation, 101, 111.

Jacoby, G. W. Cerebella ataxia, 210.

James, W. Demoniacal possession, 210.

Johnson, F. W. Deductions from hospital work in abdominal surgery, with a report of forty-five cases, 52, 61.

Johnston, G. B. What the State medical societies have done for the people, 606.

Johnston, W. On the iodine test for semen, 324.
Joints. The treatment of disabled joints resulting from the so-called rheumatoid diseases, Goldthwait, J. E., 79, 92.
Keen, W. W. Address in surgery before the American Medical Association, 604.
Keene, G. F. General paresis, 221.
Knapp, P. C. Report on neurology, 88, 109.
Knight, F. I. The treatment of bronchial asthma, 273, 285.
Knowlton, H. M. On the duties of a medical examiner, 321, 335.
Koch's new tuberculin, 415.
Kocher. Surgery under Kocher at Berne, 240; Kocher's views of goitre and cretinism, 637.
Laborde. The Laborde method of resuscitation, 98.
Lancet. Curious statements in the Lancet, 171
Laparotomy. Two cases of laparotomy for acute intussusception, Warren, J. C., 125, 137.
Larrabee, R. C. The sterilization of catgut by boiling alcohol, 86.
Larynx. A case of cancerous degeneration of a laryngeal papilloma following operation, Goodale, J. L., 58.
Leech, D. J. English account of the discovery of anæsthesia, 610.
Legal Medicine. Recent progress in legal medicine, Draper, F. W., 184; on the duties of a medical examiner, Knowlton, H. M., 321; on the iodine test for semen, Johnston, W., 324; a report of three deaths from head injury, Baker, F. H., 327; the identification of seminal stains, Whitney, W. F., 329; on the duties of a medical examiner as a witness, Hoar, S., 330.
Levant fever, Smith, A. A., 498.
Lister. Pathological research and humanity, 194.
Lithemia. The treatment of lithemia, Rachford, A. K., 498.
Locke, F. S. The use of Ringer's fluid, 243.
Loomis sanitarium for consumptives, at Liberty, 634.
Lothrop, H. A. Hernia epigastrica, with a report of cases, 175, 185, 209; empyema of the antrum of Highmore, 455, 465; a case of hypospadias, 541.
Lovett, R. W. The prevention of flat-foot and similar affections, 197; the treatment of sprains, 594.
Lumbar puncture, Wentworth, A. H., 107.
Lund, F. B. A case of web-fingers, associated with curious anomalies of the phalanges, metacarpal bones and finger-nails; with skiagram, 157; the treatment of old dislocations of the shoulder, 397, 409.
Macdonald, W. G. Public health in Rome, 121; public health in Vienna, 528.
McIntire, H. B. Notes on actinomycosis, 84.
McPhedran, A. Pancreatitis followed by cyst of the pancreas, 432.
Malaria. A case of congenital malaria, Winslow, K., 514.
Mann, M. R. Intra-abdominal shortening of the round ligaments for posterior displacements of the uterus, 574.
Manser. The respiratory form of plague, 553.
Marcy, H. O. The cure of hernia, 381, 388.
Markoe, T. M. Recollections of surgery before the use of anæsthetics, 2.
Martin, E. The mortality of intussusception, 218.
Mason, A. L. Gall-bladder infection in typhoid fever, 449, 468.
Massachusetts. The report of the commission on the public charitable and reformatory institutions of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, 285; resolutions of the Boston Medico-Psychological Society on the report of the commission to investigate the public charitable and reformatory interests and institutions, 295.
Massachusetts General Hospital. The surgical records of the Massachusetts General Hospital before 1846, Beach, H. H. A., 10; clinical meeting of the staff, 354; eighty-third annual report of the Massachusetts General Hospital, 608.
Materia Medica and Therapeutics. A note on bismuthum tribromphenylicum as a surgical antiseptic, Cumston, C. G., 37; Behring's diphtheria antitoxin serum improved, 147; eucain as a local anesthetic in ophthalmic surgery, 195; the use of Ringer's fluid, Edes, R. T., 219, Locke, F. S., 243; guiacol in puerperal eclampsia, Appleby, J. F. R., 268; discussion on stimulation in acute diseases, Wood, H. C., 289; results of the use of diphtheria antitoxin, 292; veratrum viride in puerperal convulsions, Thayer, W. H., 307; chloroform in labor, Hall, J. N., 367; Koch's new tuberculin, 415; the treatment of pneumonia and of influenza by large doses of digitalis or digitalin, 445; a further study of some of the untoward effects of the bromides, Hare, H. A., 499; the new local anesthetic, holocain, Derby, H., 549; the use of digitalin with reference to the dose, Beattes, H., 632.
Maternal Impressions. Remarks on maternal impressions, Councilman, W. T., 32, 41.
Mays, T. J. Increase of insanity and consumption among the negro population of the south since the war, 537.
Medicine, sorcery, witchcraft, spiritism in the middle ages, 391.
Meirowitz, P. Compression of spinal cord by a hydatid cyst, 64.
Milk. The home modification of milk, Morse, J. L., 230.
Mind. Mental automatism in epilepsy; a psychological study, Clark, L. P., 29; a case of "imperative idea" or "homicidal impulse" in a neurasthenic, without hereditary taint, Prince, M., 57; the prognosis and duration of attacks of mental disease, Stedman, H. R., 566.
Minot, J. J. A case of septicemia of obscure origin, 230.
Mitchell, L. T. A fatal case of poisoning by red oxide of mercury; necropsy, 257.
Mixter, S. J. A large abdominal tumor, 190.
Montgomery, E. E. Pelvic blood-collections and their treatment by vaginal incision, 575.
Morse, J. L. The home modification of milk, 230; a study of the blood in rickets, 369.
Mumford, J. G. Stercoral ulcer, 129; the treatment of sprains by massage, 595.
Munde, P. F. Perityphlitis and appendicitis in their relation to obstetrics and gynecology, 518.
Murray, R. A. The treatment of syphilitic women in pregnancy and parturition, 548.
Music. The musical faculties in health and disease, 238.
Musser, J. H. Angina pectoris, its relation to dilatation of the heart, 492.
Negro. Increase of insanity and consumption among the negro population of the south since the war, Mays, T. J., 537.
Nervous System. Mental automatism in epilepsy; a psychological study, Clark, L. P., 29; excessive physical exercise as cause of nervous exhaustion, Webber, S. G., 34; a case of "imperative idea" or "homicidal impulse" in a neurasthenic, without hereditary taint, Prince, M., 57; a case of acute multiple neuritis or anterior poliomyelitis, with involvement of the face, Stieglitz, L., 63; compression of spinal cord by a hydatid cyst, Meirowitz, P., 64; the pathology and treatment of migraine, Herter, C. A., 64; report on neurology, Knapp, P. C., 88, 109; insolation, Jackson, H., 101, 111; lumbar puncture, Wentworth, A. H., 107; recent advances in neuropathology, 167; cases simulating syringomyelia, Hammond, G. M., 210; cerebellar ataxia, Jacoby, G. W., 210; demoniacal possession, James, W., 210; general paresis, Keene, G. F., 221; the psychical nerve cells of two educated men, Berkley, H. J., 252; cerebro-spinal meningitis, a disease dangerous to the public health, 337; the anatomical nomenclature of the nervous system, 416; paralysis of the posterior crico-arytenoids, Benoud, 419; a case of nervous deafness in diphtheria, Wilson, J. C., 494; the relation of neurasthenic conditions to the general nutrition, Edes, R. T., 495; the reflex neuroses of the abdomen, Bridge, N., 496; report of a case of removal of the gasserian ganglion, Weeks, S. H., 522; the technique of cranial surgery, Tiffany, L. M., 523; a case of brain cyst with Jacksonian epilepsy, operation followed by relief, Cabot, A. T., 533; cyst of the brain, Elliot, J. W., 536, 544; relation of neurasthenic symptoms to the general nutrition, Edes, R. T., 589, 617.
New Hampshire. Medical registration in New Hampshire, 270.
New Zealand. The rates of mortality in New Zealand, 20.
Nichols, E. H. Anatomy of congenital equino-varus, 150.
Noble, C. P. The history and present status of hysterectomy for fibroid tumors of the uterus, 546.
Nomenclature. The anatomical nomenclature of the nervous system, 416.
Nurses and nurses, 213, trained nurses and the public, 394.
Observatory. A bacteriological observatory in St. Petersburg, 582.
Obstetrics. Recent progress in obstetrics, Townsend, C. W., 132; some things I was not taught in obstetrics, Boland, E. S., 254, 261.
Orthopraxy. Anatomy of congenital equino-varus, Nichols, E. H., 150; report on orthopedic surgery, Bradford, E. H., and Brackett, E. G., 158; value of mechanical exercise in the treatment of stiffness of the joints, Bradford, E. H., 163; the direct transplantation of muscles in the correction of deformities, Goldthwait, J. E., 165.
Osborne. Case of acromegaly, 496.
Osler, W. The hepatic complications of typhoid fever, 469.
Otis, E. O. Are especial hospitals or houses for consumptives a source of danger to their neighborhood? 305.
Otology in its relation to general medicine, Blake, C. J., 487.
Out-patient room as a field for research, 475.
Pain. The purpose of physical pain, 146.
Painter, C. F. A case of anomalous constricting ring about the glans penis, 464.
Pancreas. Pancreatitis followed by cyst of the pancreas, McPhedran, A., 432; cancer of the pancreas, 578.
Patella. A case of fractured patella, wiring the fragments, Porter, C. B., 355.
Pathology. Progress in pathology, Wright, J. H., 233; a report on the bacteriological investigations of three hundred and twelve cases of surgical infection, Curry, J. J., 374; the adaptation of pathological processes, Welch, W. H., 489.
Pease. A very much elongated uterus, 482.
Pediatrics. The evolution of pediatric literature in the United States, Adams, S. S., 471.
Pennsylvania Hospital. Opening of a new receiving ward and clinical operating hall at the Pennsylvania Hospital, Philadelphia, 418; opening of the Garrett memorial clinical hall and reception ward, DaCosta, J. M., 421.
Percussion. The value of auscultatory percussion in diagnosis, Stengel, A., 348.
Pericarditis. Acute pericarditis, a study of one hundred cases, Sears, G. G., 383; purulent pericarditis following pneumonia, Shattuck, F. C., and Porter, C. B., 438; some points on its diagnosis and treatment, Shattuck, F. C., 493; the surgical treatment of suppurative pericarditis, Roberts, J. B., 522.
Peritonitis. The classification of acute general peritonitis, the prognosis and treatment of the different varieties, Senn, N., 480; the surgical treatment of acute peritonitis, 525.
Perkins, J. Air-embolism with report of cases, clinical and experimental, 154, 179.
Pfeiffer, O. J. Abdominal hysterectomy, complicated with double ovariotomy, recovery, 131.
Physiology. Opportunities for training in physiology, 217.
Plague. The plague, 69; the plague and climatic conditions, 145; the bacillus of plague, 293; Dr. Doty's report on plague antitoxin, 315; a report on the last epidemic of plague at Hong Kong, 550; the respiratory form of plague, Manser, 553.
"Plaster casts" and "walking casts," 338.
Playter, E. Deficient respiratory capacity the hereditary cause of pulmonary tuberculosis, 243.
Pleurisy. Four cases illustrating a marked departure from the usual physical signs of pleuritic effusion, Bowditch, V. Y., 386.
Pneumonia. The stimulating treatment of pneumonia, Abbot, S. L., 37.
Poison. A fatal case of poisoning by red oxide of mercury, necropsy, Mitchell, L. T., 257.
Population. A stationary population in France, 146.
Porter, C. B. A case of fractured patella, wiring the fragments, 355, specimen of a dermoid cyst, 630.
Potter, W. W. Puerperal eclampsia, its etiology and treatment, 170; reciprocity in medical licensure, 552.
Practitioner. The real reason for the passing of the general practitioner, 142.
Precocious maturity, Townsend, C. W., 231.
Pregnancy, affections connected with. Remarks on maternal impressions, Councilman, W. T., 32, 41; the treatment of puerperal convulsions, 70; acute inversion of the uterus following delivery of the placenta, Brown, D. J., 126; recent progress in obstetrics, Townsend, C. W., 132; air-embolism with report of cases, clinical and experimental, Perkins, J., 154; notes on a case of extra-uterine gestation, rupture of the sac, operation and recovery, Wyman, S.

E., 156; puerperal eclampsia, its etiology and treatment, Potter, W. W., 170; four cases of pregnancy complicated by heart disease, Sears, G. G., 183; five cases of eclampsia, with comments upon the treatment, Worcester, A., 204, 209; puerperal eclampsia, Townsend, C. W., 206, 209; some things I was not taught in obstetrics, Boland, E. S., 254, 261; guiacol in puerperal eclampsia, Appleby, J. F. R., 258; veratrum viride in puerperal convulsions, Thayer, W. H., 307; primary tuberculosis of the breast complicating pregnancy, Davis, E. P., 548; perityphlitis and appendicitis in their relation to obstetrics and gynecology, Munde, P. F., 548; the treatment of pregnant women in pregnancy and parturition, Murray, R. A., 548.

Prentiss, D. W. Two cases of erythromelalgia, 440.

Prince, M. A case of "imperative idea" or "homicidal impulse" in a neurasthenic, without hereditary taint, 57.

Rabies in England, 95.

Rachford, B. K. The treatment of lithemia, 498.

Railway car heating, Barnes, H. J., 46.

Recent Progress. Diseases of children, Rotch, T. M., and Wentworth, A. H., 38; genito-urinary surgery, Watson, F. S., 59, 626; neurology, Knapp, P. C., 88, 109; obstetrics, Townsend, C. W., 132; orthopedic surgery, Bradford, E. H., and Brackett, E. G., 158; legal medicine, Draper, F. W., 184; pathology, Wright, J. H., 233; dermatology, Bowen, J. T., 258; thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., 282; public hygiene, Abbott, S. W., 309, 332; gynecology, Reynolds, E., 516.

Reed, W. The appearance of certain ameba like bodies in the blood of vaccinated monkeys (rhoesus) and children, and in the blood of variola; an experimental study, 497.

Registration. Medical registration in New Hampshire, 270; twenty-eighth registration report of Michigan for the year 1894, 446; reciprocity in medical licensure, Potter, W. W., 552.

Relics. Material relics of the great, 475.

Respiratory System. The stimulating treatment of pneumonia, Abbot, S. L., 39; the segregation and supervision of tuberculosis, Briggs, H. M., and Prudden, T. M., 74; the compulsory notification and isolation of pulmonary tuberculosis, 94; a plan for the stamping out of pulmonary tuberculosis from the land, Walton, A., 218; deficient respiratory capacity, the heredity cause of pulmonary tuberculosis, Playter, E., 243; the treatment of bronchial asthma, Knight, F. I., 273, 285; report on progress in thoracic diseases, Sears, G. G., 282; the attack on private institutions for the care and treatment of consumptives, 291; ordinance concerning expectoration, 295; are especial hospitals or homes for consumptives a source of danger to their neighborhood, Otis, E. O., 305; four cases illustrating a marked departure from the usual physical signs of pleuritic effusion, Bowditch, V. Y., 386; the treatment of pneumonia and of influenza by large doses of digitalis or digitalin, 445; diagnostic and therapeutic considerations with respect to certain diseases of the upper air tract, Robinson, B., 494; two cases of broncho-biliary fistula, Graham, J. E., 494; earliest possible recognition of tuberculosis, Whittaker, J. T., 499.

Resuscitation. The Laborde method of resuscitation, 98.

Reynolds, E. Report on progress in gynecology, 516; a preliminary report on a new method of vaginal fixation, 544.

Richardson, M. H. Anatomical specimens, 92; cases of malignant adenoma of the uterus, vagina and rectum, with remarks upon the surgery of this form of malignant disease, 406, 408; a case of Fenger's pyloroplasty for intermittent hydronephrosis, 523; a case of chronic intestinal obstruction from incomplete volvulus of the sigmoid flexure, 524.

Richardson, M. W. The Elsner method of diagnosis in typhoid fever, 147.

Rickets. The cause of bowing of the left forearm in rachitic children, Stone, J. S., 108; a study of the blood in rickets, Morse, J. L., 369.

Ringer. The use of Ringer's fluid, Edes, R. E., 219, Locke, F. S., 243.

Roberts, J. B. The surgical treatment of suppurative pericarditis, 522.

Robinson, B. Diagnostic and therapeutic considerations with respect to certain diseases of the upper air tract, 494.

Rochester, D. L. The prognosis and therapeutic indications in cardiac disease, 631.

Rollins, W. The high voltage current in alveolar inflammation, 195; a possible effect of high voltage electric generators on disease germs, 530.

Rome. Public health in Rome, Macdonald, W. G., 121.

Ronayne, D. P. A report of a case of suppurating ovarian cysts, operation and treatment, 480, 483.

Rontgen rays in thoracic diseases, Williams, F. H., 496; the x-rays in surgery, White, J. W., 520.

Rotch, T. M. The differential diagnosis of the acute exanthemata with especial reference to scarlet fever, 505.

Rotch, T. M., and Wentworth, A. H. Report on diseases of children, 38.

Rovinsky, A. Syphilis in Russia, 343.

Scarlet Fever. The differential diagnosis of the acute exanthemata with especial reference to scarlet fever, Rotch, T. M., 505.

Schaefer, T. W. A brief historical retrospect of the examination of the urine in ancient and modern times, 623.

Schott treatment of cardiac disease, Camac, W. B., 631.

Schuylkill River. Further studies upon the pathogenic spirilla of the Schuylkill River at Philadelphia, Abbott, A. C., 497.

Sears, G. G. Four cases of pregnancy complicated by heart disease, 183; report on progress in thoracic diseases, 282; acute pericarditis, a study of one hundred cases, 383.

Self-protection by the medical profession in the District of Columbia, 318.

Semen. On the iodine test for semen, Johnston, W., 324; the identification of seminal stains, Whitney, W. F., 329.

Senn, N. The classification of acute general peritonitis, the prognosis and treatment of the different varieties, 489; address before the American Medical Association, 599.

Septicemia. A case of septicemia of obscure origin, Minot, J. J., 230.

Serum. Antistreptococcic serum as a prophylactic in cases of operation involving subsequent sepsis, 390; the serum test in typhoid fever, Shattuck, G. B., 467.

Serum-therapy in syphilis, 214.

Shattuck, F. C. Typhoid fever with perforation, 354; pericarditis, some points on its diagnosis and treatment, 493; specialism, the laboratory and practical medicine, 613.

Shattuck, F. C., and Porter, C. B. Purulent pericarditis following pneumonia, 458.

Shattuck, G. B. The serum test in typhoid fever, 467.

Shoulder. The treatment of old dislocations of the shoulder, Lund, F. B., 397; the operative treatment of irreducible dislocations of the shoulder, recent or old, simple or complicated, Souchon, E., 520.

Skull. The permanent or later results of fractures of the skull, Bullard, W. N., 401.

Smith, A. Levant fever, 498.

Smith, A. L. Result of two hundred operations for the cure of retro-displacements of the uterus, 574.

Societies. American Gynecological Society, 546, 574; American Medical Association, 318, 341, 527, 553, 578, 599, 651; American Pediatric Society, 462, 471; American Public Health Association, 392; American Surgical Association, 519; Association of American Physicians, 467, 492; Boston Society for Medical Improvement, 136, 163, 285, 310, 465, 544, 571; Congress of American Physicians and Surgeons, 472, 486; Harvard Medical Alumni Association, 340; International Medical Congress, 342; Massachusetts Medical Society, 335, 596, 598; New York Academy of Medicine, 288; New York Neurological Society, 63, 210; Obstetrical Society of Boston, 41, 209, 408; Suffolk District Medical Society, 92, 111, 185, 236, 261, 388, 409, 482, 628.

Souchon, E. The operative treatment of irreducible dislocations of the shoulder, recent or old, simple or complicated, 520.

Spear, D. D. A bullet wound of the brain, 208.

Specialism, the laboratory and practical medicine, Shattuck, F. C., 613.

Spleen. A case of splenic myelogenous leukemia, Vickery, H. F., 362.

Sprains. Sprains and their treatment, Graham, D., 593, 620; the treatment of sprains, Lovett, R. W., 594; the treatment of sprains by massage, Mumford, J. G., 79.

Stedman, H. R. The prognosis and duration of attacks of mental disease, 566.

Stengel, A. The value of auscultatory percussion in diagnosis, 348.

Stercoral ulcer, Mumford, J. G., 129.

Stercorin and cholesteremia, Flint, A., 602.

Sterility in the male, Blake, J. G., 402.

Stieglitz, L. A case of acute multiple neuritis or anterior poliomyelitis, with involvement of the face, 63.

Stimulation. Discussion on stimulation in acute diseases, Wood, H. C., 289.

Stone, A. K. Camden, S. C., as a health resort, 23.

Stone, J. S. The treatment of flat-foot, 25; the cause of bowing of the left forearm in rachitic children, 108.

Sunstroke. Insolation, Jackson, H., 101, 111.

Suprarenal Capsules. The chemical properties of the blood-pressure-raising constituent of the suprarenal capsule, Abel, J. J., 496.

Surgeon-General. The library of the surgeon-general's office threatened, 118.

Syphilis. Serum-therapy in syphilis, 214; syphilis in Russia, Rovinsky, A., 343.

Taft, C. E. A case of spiral fracture of the tibia, 181.

Tariff. The duty on books in the Dingley bill, 363.

Taylor, F. W. Appendicitis in an infant, 482.

Tendencies in medicine, DaCosta, J. M., 435.

Tendon anastomosis, Bradford, E. H., 522.

Teratoma specimens, Councilman, W. T., 628.

Thayer, J. B. Address before the Massachusetts Medical Society, 597.

Thayer, W. H. Veratrum viride in puerperal convulsions, 307.

Tiffany, L. M. The technique of cranial surgery, 523.

Toulmin, H. Tracheal tugging, 632.

Townsend, C. W. Recent progress in obstetrics, 132; puerperal eclampsia, 206, 209; a case of precocious maturity 231.

Trachea. Tracheal tugging, Toulmin, H., 632.

Trustees. The qualifications for trustees of hospitals and other public charitable institutions, 473.

Tuberculin. Koch's new tuberculin, 415.

Tuberculosis. The segregation and supervision of tuberculosis, Biggs, H. M., and Prudden, T. M., 74; the compulsory notification and isolation of pulmonary tuberculosis, 94; a plan for the stamping out of pulmonary tuberculosis from the land, Walton, A., 218; deficient respiratory capacity the heredity cause of pulmonary tuberculosis, Playter, E., 243; the compulsory reporting of tuberculosis, 318; earliest possible recognition of tuberculosis, Whittaker, J. T., 499; some products of tuberculosis bacillus and the treatment of experimental tuberculosis by antitoxic serum, DeSchweinitz, E. A., 499; primary tuberculosis of the breast, complicating pregnancy, Davis, E. P., 548; the prevention of tuberculosis, Hamilton, J. B., 606.

Twombly, E. L. Vaginal myomectomy, 477.

Typhoid Fever. Remarks on Widal's "clump reaction" in typhoid fever, Cabot, R. C., 107; the Elsner method of diagnosis in typhoid fever, Richardson, M. W., 147; typhoid fever with perforation, Shattuck, F. C., 354; gall-bladder infection in typhoid fever, Mason, A. L., 449, 468; the serum test in typhoid fever, Shattuck, G. B., 467; the hepatic complications of typhoid fever, Osler, W., 469; ureal estimations in cases of typhoid fever treated by the Brand bath method, Tyson, J., 469; the sero-diagnosis of typhoid fever, Welch, W. H., 632; clinical report on sero-diagnosis, Cabot, R. C., 633.

Tyson, J. Ureal estimations in cases of typhoid fever treated by the Brand bath method, 469.

Ureterectomy, Fenger, C., 523.

Urinary System. Report on recent progress in genito-urinary surgery, Watson, F. S., 59, 626; nephro-ureterectomy, retroperitoneal extirpation of a kidney with its ureter, Elliot, J. W., 173, 187; tumor of the kidney, Wentworth, A. H., 190; uremia from anuria, Francis, G. H., 331; ureal estimations in cases of typhoid fever treated by the Brand bath method, Tyson, J., 469; the treatment of lithemia, Rachford, B. K., 498; ureterectomy, Fenger, C., 523; a case of Fenger's pyloroplasty for intermittent nephrosis, Richardson, M. H., 523; a case of hypospadias, Lothrop, H. A., 541; a brief historical retrospect of the examination of the urine in ancient and modern times, Schaefer, T. W., 623.

Veratrum viride in puerperal convulsions, Thayer, W. H., 305.
Vickery, H. F. Hemophilia, 226, 236; a case of splenic myelogenous leukemia, 362.
Vienna. Public health in Vienna, Macdonald, W. G., 528.
Vivisection. Anti-vivisection in the District of Columbia, 502; an antivivisection hospital, 637.
Walcott, H. P. Address before the Massachusetts Medical Society, 596.
Walton, A. A plan for the stamping out of pulmonary tuberculosis from the land, 218.
Walton, G. L., and Brooks, W. A., Jr. Observations on brain surgery suggested by a case of multiple cerebral hemorrhage, 201, 310.
Ward, R. deC. The teaching of climatology in medical schools, 103.
Warren, J. C. The classification of benign tumors of the breast, 49; two cases of laparotomy for acute intussusception, 125, 137; hemangioma of the buccal pouch, 355; osteomyelitis of the humerus, 356; a case of osteo-sarcoma of both superior maxillæ, 358; aseptic incision with a simple fracture, 358; the influence of anesthesia on the surgery of the nineteenth century, 423.
Water. The duty on natural mineral waters, 341.
Watson, F. S. Report on recent progress in genito urinary surgery, 59, 626; various cases, 156; president's address before the American Association of Genito-Urinary Surgeons, 431.
Web-fingers. A case of web fingers associated with curious anomalies of the phalanges, metacarpal bones and finger-nails, Lund, F. B., 157.
Webber, S. G. Excessive physical exercise as cause of nervous exhaustion, 34.
Weeks, S. H. Report of a case of removal of the gasserian ganglion, 522.
Welch, W. H. The application of pathological processes, 489; the sero-diagnosis of typhoid fever, 632.
Wentworth, A. H. Lumbar puncture, 107; tumor of the kidney, 190.
Wheeler, W. G. An incident in the early history of the introduction of sulphuric ether as an anesthetic, 9.
White, J. C. Notes on dermatitis venenata, 77.
Whitney, W. F. The identification of seminal stains, 329.
Whittaker, J. T. Earliest possible recognition of tuberculosis, 499.
Widal. Remarks on Widal's "clump reaction" in typhoid fever, Cabot, R. C., 107.
Williams, C. H. An axometer, 40; standards of form and color-vision in railway service, 561, 571.
Williams, E. T. Congenital tumor of the vagina, 47
Williams, F. H. The Röntgen rays in thoracic diseases, 496; an epidemic of cerebro-spinal meningitis caused by diplococcus intracellularis meningitidis (Jaeger), 498.
Williams, H. U. The experimental production of fat necrosis; fat necrosis about the pancreas of the hog, 345.
Winslow, K. A case of congenital malaria, 514.
Withington, C. F. Fracture of humerus from ball-throwing, with skiagraph, 464.
Wilson, J. C. A case of nervous deafness in diphtheria, 494.
Winter migration, 239; an alternative to the winter migration, 268.
Wolcott, R. Address before the Massachusetts Medical Society, 697.
Wood, H. C. Discussion on stimulation in acute diseases, 289.
Worcester, A. Five cases of eclampsia with comments upon the treatment, 204, 209.
Wright, J. H. Progress in pathology, 232.
Wright, J. W. The x-rays in surgery, 520.
Wyman, S. E. Notes of a case of extra-uterine gestation, rupture of the sac, operation and recovery, 156.